Student Life

STUDENT LIFE

I. About the University of Macau (UM)

Founded in 1981, UM was formerly a private institution known as the University of East Asia. It was acquired by the local government in 1988 and renamed University of Macau in 1991, becoming the only public university in Macao. It currently offers approximately 130 degree programmes, including bachelor's programmes, master's programmes, PhD programmes, and other programmes. English is the main medium of instruction. UM has an outstanding faculty team comprised of internationally recruited scholars with rich teaching experience and impressive academic backgrounds, many of whom graduated from well-known universities.

The new campus covers approximately one square kilometre, with a building area of approximately 800,000 square metres. It has more than 60 buildings, and is 20 times the size of the current campus. The new campus can accommodate more than 10,000 students. The new campus has a profound impact on the long-term development of higher education in Macao in that it brings new programmes, new facilities, a new campus culture, and a new mode of management for UM, the most representative higher education institution in Macao.

For further information on new campus please refer to: http://www.umac.mo/new_campus_project/

■ UM Emblem and Motto

The emblem of UM features a five-towered crest encircled by golden rings and the name of the university in Chinese and Portuguese.

- The key on the book is the key to knowledge.
- The waves represent the university's inland setting in the South China Sea.
- The bridge links together eastern and western cultures.
- On the ribbon is a Chinese motto listing the five virtues of an ideal scholar: humanity, integrity, propriety, wisdom and sincerity.
- The colours are red for hope, blue for the joy of well-being, and gold for the advancement of humanity.

II. Academic Regulations

Here are the excerpts of some regulations which are especially important to students. We strongly suggest you to refer to the complete regulation available on the Registry website: http://www.umac.mo/reg/cstudents_acad_cal_reg.php

■ ARRANGEMENT OF CLASSES AND EXAMINATIONS DURING TYPHOONS AND RAINSTORMS

There will be specific arrangement for classes and examinations during typhoons and rainstorms. For details, please refer to http://www.umac.mo/reg/bad_weather_arrangements.php

■ ABSENCE

1. A student who cannot attend classes because of illness must inform the Dean of the faculty or the head of the independent academic unit concerned in writing at the earliest opportunity. When longer absence is necessary (over three days) or when absence from examinations is in question, a student must submit in writing an application for leave of absence to the Dean of the faculty or the head of the independent academic unit concerned, together with a certificate signed by a registered medical practitioner.
2. A student who, during his studies, desires leave of absence for more than two full consecutive days for non-medical reasons must apply to the Dean of the faculty or the head of the independent academic unit concerned in writing at the earliest opportunity, stating the reasons for which the leave of absence is sought. Permission for such leave will only be granted in exceptional circumstances and on a case-by-case basis.
3. A student who is absent without applying for leave of absence from a course for more than 20% of its scheduled teaching periods in the aggregate will not be allowed to take the final examination and will receive a failing grade for that course. If the course in question is a compulsory course, a student must retake it.
4. If the expected period of leave is of a significant duration covering an entire semester or a year, students should apply instead for deferment/suspension of studies.

■ EXAMINATION

1. A student who for medical or other compelling reasons is unable to sit for any course examination must apply in writing with documentary evidence at the earliest possible moment (but not later than seven working days after the examination concerned) to the academic unit for leave of absence.
2. A student who is absent from any examination without permission will be given a failing grade for that examination.

■ STUDENT CLEARANCE

If you leave the University in the middle of your studies, you must complete the Student Clearance Procedure at Registry. Otherwise, you will not be issued any official documents (including testimonial, transcript, etc.).

III. Courses and Enrollment

■ COURSES

The main medium of instruction of the courses in UM is English while some programmes are taught in Chinese or Portuguese. A credit unit is equal to one lecture hour per week for one semester. One session (2 to 3 hours) per week of laboratory or practice work for one semester is also counted as one credit unit. A student is normally allowed to take a maximum of 21 credit units in a semester (an academic unit may allow less as the maximum).
